Increasingly Christian denominations are expressing a need for trained supervisors to support those in pastoral ministry. In the face of a multiplicity of challenges: climate change, relational malpractice, racial injustice, social care and poverty gaps, the post-pandemic Church, with its reduced clergy, needs to review, prioritise and structure as never before.

The changing nature of local and lay ministry requires pastoral ministers to oversee teams and develop skills in line-management, supervision and reflective practice. This is in order to embody Kingdom life with all the skill, wisdom and mutual accountability necessary to honour the people and the Christ we serve.

The Professional Diploma in Pastoral Supervision is a short course, which follows on from PCPS, the Professional Certificate in Pastoral Supervision. Its aim is to support the reflective practice of graduates of the certificate course as you integrate theory and practice and to prepare you, as you build up your hours of regular pastoral supervision in order to be eligible for APSE* accreditation. This recognition will allow you to offer services nationally and enjoy fellowship and ongoing development alongside other professionals in this field.

As always, IPCS endeavours to foster and resource this important ministry of 'watching over one another in love'.

Who is the course for?

This new course, may be of interest to you if:

- You have responsibility for clergy wellbeing
- You lead a team of lay and/or ordained colleagues and have supervisory responsibilities
- You are in independent practice supervising those in pastoral ministry
- You have oversight of pastoral care teams within your church

What are the course aims?

- To enable you to continue integrating theological, personal, psychological, ethical and skillful practice in your work as a lay or ordained pastoral practitioner
- To support you in completing the requirements for APSE membership and accreditation as a pastoral supervisor

What are the entry requirements?

This course is suitable for you if:

- You have already successfully completed IPCS's Professional Certificate in Pastoral Supervision, or the Certificate in Reflective Practice & Pastoral Supervision OR equivalent (Contact us to check)
- You have carried out a minimum of 10 hours of pastoral supervision with at least two different supervisees since completion of your initial training with IPCS
- You have received at least 3 sessions of supervision upon that practice and would like to extend your skills to include group supervision.
- You comply with your professional Code of Ethics and the APSE Code of Conduct, see www.pastoralsupervision.org.uk

Please submit an application form and put the dates in your diary!

What will I gain on completion?

- You will have received further in-depth training in pastoral supervision in company with colleagues who are also in regular supervisory roles
- You will have met the minimum training and practice requirements for accreditation by the APSE
- You will have completed an assignment and practice logs, which will prepare you for making your application for APSE accreditation
- You will receive the Professional Diploma in Pastoral Supervision, awarded by the Institute of Pastoral Counselling and Supervision

Who are the Course Facilitators?

Anissa Chung BSc, PGCE, MSc Integrative Psychotherapy, PG Dip Supervision; Reg MBACP Accredited Practitioner, Reg UKCP Accredited Psychotherapist & Supervisor, APSE. After a career in teaching, Anissa is now an experienced BACP and UKCP accredited psychotherapist and supervisor and, until recently, delivered psychotherapy to MSc level. She has a well established private practice, including offering pastoral supervision to those who work in a church setting. Besides clinical work, she is Counselling Coordinator for the Diocese of Leicester. She finds it exciting to accompany all who desire to explore their own journey, to experience personal and professional growth, and the possibility of transformation.

Dr. Ruth Layzell D. Prof. Practical Theology, MA, BA, CQSW; Reg MBACP Accredited Practitioner, APSE.

Ruth is Co-Director of IPCS, and spends most of her time offering, and training people in, pastoral supervision. Ruth has a background in social work, counselling, theological education and psychotherapy training and has a passion for using psychological and theological skills to resource and support Christians involved in all kinds of pastoral ministry. She completed a doctorate in practical theology looking at The pastoral accompaniment of people experiencing psychological and spiritual extremity. Currently she is one of the lead trainers on the Methodist supervisory training scheme.

Margaret Bazely BA, PGCE, Diploma in Psychodynamic Counselling, Dip Pastoral Theology; APSE Senior Educator & Trainer.

Margaret is Co-Director of IPCS. An experienced therapist with adults and children, she has lectured in counselling in colleges and universities, including Church Army College and Sheffield Hallam University. She worked in Professional Standards for BACP for 11 years, enjoyed five years as a College Chaplain and has been a lead trainer on the Methodist supervisory training scheme. Her fervent wish is to see supervision as the norm for all in pastoral ministry, lay or ordained.
