The Sherwood Psychotherapy Training Institute

SPTI Research Showcase 2024

Saturday 16th March 2024, 9.30am - 4.30pm

Call for Papers: Presentations & Posters
'Our diverse research community?'

Are you a current student or recent graduate?

- Looking to disseminate your research ideas in the therapeutic community?
- Seeking to gain presentation experience in a supportive environment?
- Wishing to gain feedback on the findings of your study and develop your ideas?

If so, we would be delighted to receive your proposal for a presentation or poster.

Presentations are invited which address the theme, including (but not limited to) research, work in progress and reflective pieces focusing on:

- Development of community, issues of power, diversity, marginalisation, inclusion, intersectionality, and social justice.
- Community based/focused methods.
- Methodological communities.
- Therapist sense of involvement in the training/professional community
- The client as a part of the research community.

You may also consider; the shift in relationship with your research question, method and self, to exploration of how research has enhanced understanding of the psychotherapeutic relationship.
